OUR JOURNEY

1946

Odd Loftered Sr. founds Odlo in Norway.

1964

Odlo's nylon cross-country race suit revolutionises the sport. It is proudly worn by the entire Norwegian national team at that year's Olympic games.

1972

At the Sapporo Olympics, 25 teams wear the Odlo Thermic - the first fully synthetic base layer that keeps athletes comfortable. Athletes and teams (in this, the pre-sponsorship era) pay to race in the apparel themselves.

1986

Odlo moves to Switzerland and launches the groundbreaking three layer principle.

1994

The Company expands into running and outdoor products. That same year, Odlo introduces a recycling guarantee.

2002

Odlo "effect" fabric becomes the first base layers to contain odour-reducing silver ions.

2008

Odlo joins the Fair Wear Foundation.

2011

Odlo completes its first Life Cycle Assessment on one of its base layers - the Evolution Greentec. It's the first seamless base layer made from 100% recycled materials.

2016

Odlo celebrates its 70th anniversary and introduces a new brand claim, "Engineers of Active Layers since 1946."

2017

Odlo launches the pioneering Ceramicool technology which uses the cooling properties of ceramic in clothing.

2018

More innovation follows with Ceramiwool, Ceramiwarm and F-Dry. Also that year, a groundbreaking collaboration with Zaha Hadid Design.

2019

Odlo introduces I-THERMIC, the first intelligent Thermal Technology that analyses body heat to regulate when needed.

2021

Odlo invests heavily in solar panels at its German distribution facility as it prioritises clean energy use. That same year, Odlo is awarded Leader status by the Fair Wear Foundation for the 6th consecutive year.

2023

Martin Fourcade is named global brand ambassador. The company rebrands with the tag, "There's More Out There." Meanwhile, under CEO Daniel Eppler, the company sets six strategic priorities - Sustainability among them. Additionally, the Company commercialises a base layer partnership with Burton Snowboards.

2024

Odlo celebrates its partnership with Team Odlo X-Alpi with the release of Out For More, a web series. Later in the year, it furthers its brand awareness with a campaign that celebrates the joy of the outdoors with champion biathletes, the Gasparin Sisters.

2025

Odlo continues to advance its sustainability priorities, reaching 83% to recycled polyester use by end of year. The Company targets 100% non-virgin polyester in collection by 2028.

THERE'S MORE OUT THERE

Inspired by Nordic sports and our founder's passion to push boundaries, Odlo exists to heighten every outdoor experience. We design base layers without equal and all-season apparel that drives outdoor devotees to go for more, more often, in comfort.

We live for the limitless potential of personal podiums and shared experiences. And from the Swiss Alps, we develop clothing for those who know that whatever lies ahead – there's always more out there.

How do I measure accessory sizes?

Hats

Take a soft tape measure from the middle of the forehead, above the ears and midway at the back of the head. Do not pull the tape too tightly.

Gloves

Take a soft tape measure and wrap it around the dominant hand just below the knuckles and excluding the thumb.

How to measure

Hats

Take a soft tape measure from the middle of the forehead, above the ears and midway at the back of the head. Do not pull the tape too tightly.

Gloves

Take a soft tape measure and wrap it around the dominant hand just below the knuckles and excluding the thumb. Now measure from the bottom edge of the palm to the tip of the middle finger.

Socks

Simply pick the size that fits your shoe size.

Sports bras

How to choose the right bra:

Think about intensity level: different activities require different levels of support. Running will require more support; yoga, less. Choose the support level that corresponds to what you'll be doing in it.

Pay attention to fit: sports bras should fit snug but not be uncomfortable. Try on different sizes and styles to find the one that fits best.

How to measure

For a perfect fit, a new band should be on the loosest hook and feel firm but comfortable.

Your breasts should be fully contained within your bra's cups, with no excess cleavage coming over the top.

Straps are at their perfect length when the breast feels supported in its natural position - usually half way between the shoulder and elbow.
