IGLOO®

SINCE 1947

We began as a modest metalworking shop in 1947 — our days were spent crafting steel water jugs for oil field workers — but we knew we could do a lot more. So, we did. Soon we became the go-to brand known for adding more fun to outdoor adventures with affordable, quality ice chests that looked...well, cool, and included features you never knew you needed but could no longer live without. Most know us for the Playmate® cooler — aka “America’s Lunchbox”

— we created in 1971 that has such a distinct, innovative design, it’s on display at the Smithsonian. We pride ourselves in thinking outside the (ice) box.
